Women's International Fund for Education

The Women's International Fund for Education (WIFE) is an organization in the United States of America that aims to support young women throughout the world in reaching their goals to become college/university graduates and leaders in their communities. WIFE strives to make the world a better place by educating women showing leadership potential. WIFE was formed in 2010 by a group of young women in California. The funds available for the scholarship were raised through the generous donations of community members and a few small businesses.

The Women's International Fund for Education's scholarship program is dedicated to serving young women who strive to become leaders within their community. The scholarship is designed to be the "seed" that allows each applicant to grow and develop innovative projects and careers. Scholarships will be awarded to women who demonstrate their desire to improve the quality of life in their communities as well as the state of the environment.

The Women's International Fund for Education offers scholarships to women who show tremendous potential. The scholarship is offered for one academic year. Throughout the school year the applicant is required to update WIFE regularly, through e-mail or video chat correspondence. After the completion of the applicant's first year, the applicant is required to fill out a survey to provide WIFE with information on their accomplishments. Applicants are encouraged to re-apply for the scholarship annually.

Thank you for your interest in the Women's International Fund for Education's scholarship program. We look forward to hearing from you and helping you achieve your educational goals by supporting you in this journey!

With gratitude,
The Women's International Fund for Education

II. General Information on the Application Process

All sections of the application must be completed in English. Unless otherwise indicated, the requested information is required. If a question or section does not apply to you, please mark it NA (not applicable). Some additional documentation may be submitted separately – see instructions for each section. However, sending everything in one packet is encouraged.

Eligible applicants must demonstrate financial need, academic ability, leadership skills, career goals and a desire to improve the welfare of their community and/or the health of the environment. To be eligible, you must:

- Be a woman at least of age to enter college/university
- Demonstrate financial need
- Demonstrate leadership skills in your community
- Commit to WIFE's binding contract and mentorship program
- Demonstrate the desire to improve your community and the environment

The application deadline is April 7, 2024. Scholarship funds awarded by the Women's International Fund for Education will be applied to the recipient's account at her school, NOT directly to the individual. Certain cases may be required to answer follow up questions to determine eligibility.

Submit your application, postmarked no later than the application deadline to:

Terms of Scholarship Acceptance:

If an applicant is awarded a scholarship, the recipient is required to participate in the Women's International Fund for Education's Follow Up Program.

The Follow Up Program is designed to allow the Women's International Fund for Education (WIFE) to stay connected to the recipient throughout their educational career. This allows WIFE to monitor the success of each recipient in reaching her goals. Monitoring each recipient is necessary for WIFE to evaluate the ultimate success of the scholarship program.

WIFE's Follow Up Program consists of the following responsibilities:

- I. Regular updates with WIFE organizers in the United States of America, via e-mail or video chat correspondence
- II. Regular updates with the recipient's mentor – usually a professor or local professional (more information on the mentorship program will be sent upon acceptance)
- III. Completion of surveys provided throughout the school year from WIFE
- IV. Completion of the end-of-year survey, providing detailed information on how the scholarship has helped you reach your academic goals
- V. Outreach to potential applicants in the community (more information on the outreach program will be sent upon acceptance)
- VI. Acquisition of materials (photos, statistics etc.) requested by WIFE that will support the organization's development (more information will be provided upon acceptance)

The purpose of the Follow Up Program is to provide WIFE with information that can be used in future grant application and other fundraising avenues. By participating in the tasks listed above, the recipient will be supporting the organization in obtaining future funds to sponsor future applicants. The tasks will not be extensively time consuming and will be given with fair timing. WIFE understands and respects each recipient's dedication to her coursework.

I understand the terms of acceptance and am willing to participate in the tasks listed above, created by the Women's International Fund for Education. I understand that failure to comply with these requests can result in the loss of funding during the school year.
